African Journalism in the Information Society

Review

New Forms of Journalism

AfricAtionality, Modernity
3 Francis Nyamnjoh says journalism is out of touch with African ideas of personhood and agency

An Embracing Africanism
4 Larry Strelitz defines ‘African’ and ‘Journalism’

Nepad is an African Story
7 Lilian Ndangam and Andrew Kanyegirire look at how the media report this new story

Under-reported and Misreported
8 Wilfred Kiboro reports on IPI discussions on Africa

Language is Culture
8 Vanessa Malilo reviews indigenous languages on the web

African News Agencies
8 They’re there, they work hard, use them!

A Journalism of Purpose
10 Nixon Kaziithi urges journalists to unfocus from the state

We, the Media
11 Vincent Maher looks at blogging and ‘citizen journalism’

What Is and Isn’t Journalism Now
12 Adam Clayton Powell explores new territory

Ask the Right Question, Stupid
13 Mark Comerford reminds us, it’s all about storytelling

Multimedia and Storytelling
14 Rich Beckman says this form of journalism can work in Africa

Journalism in the Argument Culture
14 Lars Nord looks at the rise of ‘interpretive journalism’

Let’s Get Technical

Software Colonisation
15 Jared Cinman urges Africans to develop their own

Stimulating the Local
17 Heather Ford surveys the open content scene

Tsha Tsha!
18 Heathen Ford shows us the digit-succesess out there

Deconstruct the Geek Speak
18 Kenyan McKay gives us a guide

Building the African Commons
19 Heather Ford talks about projects using CC licences

Here’s a Sharper Tool
20 Heather Ford says African control over its intellectual property is critical

A Powerful, Symbolic Victory
21 Andrew Rens tells us why the Laugh It Off case gives the marginal rights to speak

Harnessing Newsroom Knowledge
22 Guy Berger says it’s sitting there and you should get clever about using it

It’s All About Africa

Homegrown Standards
37 Hendrik Busiek talks about an indigenous method to monitor media freedom

Don’t Harm the Children
39 Gemma Haines and William Bird show us how reporting violence and abuse of children is often a secondary violation

Beyond State and First Economy
40 Jane Duncan says South Africa needs a social movement around public broadcasting

What Is in the Public Interest?
41 Towana Kupe focuses a sharp eye on the meaning of these words

The Regional Rampage
42 Conseil Tinehe asks if SA media companies are becoming the Americans of SADC

Africa in the Streets of Advertising
44 Natalia Malebatsi investigates how advertisers appropriate cultural symbols

Meanings and Messages
45 René Smith says media literacy is critical in our media-saturated world

It’s the Community in Community Radio
47 Mbuyisi Mgibisa asks radio stations how they engage their communities

Cinderella Television
48 Karen Thorne says community TV in SA could be poised for take-off

Between the Barg and the Big Bang
49 Tawana Kupe looks at how exile journalism is stimulating debate about Zimbabwe

Diasporic Journalism
23 Towana Kupe looks at how exile journalism is stimulating debate about Zimbabwe

Newspaper, Alive and in Exile
25 Brett Lock interviews Zimbabwean editor Wilf Mbanga

Should Governments Own Newspapers
27 Peter Schelchmidt talks about a movement to give papers to the people

Democratising Science
28 Paschal Mwaile looks at whether the media help ordinary people understand the debate about genetically modified organisms

Generating Heat
30 Raymond Joseph talks from the inside about the tabloids

The Great Tabloid Debate
30 The SA National Editors’ Forum debate

Taking the Gap
32 Hayes Mbiwaza says the shrinkage of the private press in Zimbabwe has made space for the tabloids

Red and Raunchy
33 Ben Opolot tells us why the Red Pepper has survived in Uganda

A ‘Danger to Journalism’
34 Herman Wasserman says criticism of the SA tabloids should be seen as ‘paradigm repair’ by a profession in trouble

You Can’t Be Serious
35 Larry Strelitz and Lynette Steenveld use insights from other contexts to focus on SA tabloids

Monitoring Media

What Can We Do Now?
51 Henk Rossouw reflects on months of observing those who care for those with Aids

Every Number is a Life
53 Neelie Khumelani talks to journalists using different strategies to report on Aids

Living with the Stigma
55 Philippa Gasson listens to women with Aids

Sustaining the Coverage
56 Natalie Ridgard and Nicola Spurr urge journalists to get beyond the controversies and event-based reporting

Get Reading

The Symbiosis of Capitalists
58 Sim Kyazze reviews Between the Lies by Stan Winler

A Practical Guide for a New Generation of Journalists in SA
58 Andrew Kanyegirire reviews Changing the Fourth Estate edited by Adrian Hadland

The Politics of Belonging
59 Lilian Ndangam reviews Africa’s Media by Francis Nyamnjoh

A Selection of Other Good Media Reads
60